Nahum at a glance

BIG IDEA

No one likes being in the path of imminent disaster, nor is the menacing threat of enemy invasion a pleasant thought. [1]

HISTORICAL SETTING

Author: Nahum. Date: Sometime between 663 and 612 BC. Setting: The Assyrian Empire had conquered the northern kingdom of Israel, and now the southern kingdom of Judah was in danger of facing the same fate. [1]

HOW TO READ THIS BOOK

Read this book in its historical setting and as prophetic proclamation. Track audience, covenant background, indictment, hope, and how later Scripture receives its promises.

MAJOR THEMES

- To announce God's coming judgment on Nineveh, the Assyrian capital, thus offering hope to the people of Judah
- The book's literary movement and central claims
- Faithful response within the people of God
- Hope, judgment, grace, and obedience in their proper context

INTERPRETIVE CARE

- Locate judgment and hope in the prophet's historical setting before making modern parallels.
- Treat prophetic imagery as Scripture's language, not a shortcut around careful context.

Nahum 1

15 verses. Read it aloud together before anyone talks about it.

Who and what appears

Bashan · Carmel · Lebanon · LORD · Nineveh · Feet

Questions

- Try to state the argument in one sentence before anyone reacts to it.
- What does the writer repeat? Repetition is usually the point, not a habit.
- What surprised you, or what did you have to read twice?
- The word feet is doing real work here. What did you assume it meant, and does the passage agree?
- What problem was this letter written to solve, and does knowing that change how the instruction lands?
- Where does this cut against something you already believe or already do?

SESSION 2 OF 3

Nahum 2

13 verses. Read it aloud together before anyone talks about it.

Who and what appears

LORD · Nineveh · Lion · Face · Gold · Lightning

Questions

- What is the writer trying to get these readers to do or stop doing?
- Who is being addressed here, and what do they already know that we do not?
- What is assumed rather than argued? Those assumptions are often the real claim.
- Define lion from this passage alone, without reaching for what you already know.
- Is this a command, a description, or an argument? They are not read the same way.
- What would actually be different this week if you took this seriously?

- What is left unsaid that you expected to be said?
- Where else have you heard sword used, and is it being used that way here?
- What did the first readers face that we do not, and what does that change?
